

Protecting your business, large or small has become a challenge that requires attention every day. At Lardiere McNair we have over 30 years of experience in assisting our clients protect their businesses and their families. We focus our practice by serving as general counsel providing services for a wide variety of business and individual clients, including not for profit entities. As part of that representation, we are engaged to provide counsel on topics including corporate compliance, data and physical security, privacy issues, business transactions, insurance claims and procurement, employee relations, vendor and contract management, litigation, arbitration, real estate (sales and purchases) and lease negotiations. In addition to our individual clients, we represent a wide variety of businesses, including general service companies, financial institutions, creditors, churches, real estate management companies and landlords, and manufacturing companies.

Inside this brochure is a partial listing of concerns, issues and challenges that we help our clients face on a day to day basis. With us as part of your team, we can help protect your business and your family.
